TRAINING INFORMATION

Sheriff's Institute

Monday, June 17, 2019 – Friday, June 21, 2019

The Sheriff's Institute is for newly elected Sheriffs and his/her command and administrative staff. All of the speakers who present at the Sheriff's Institute are content matter experts. The Institute will take place at the same hotel as the annual convention and have cross training and social events scheduled in conjunction with the annual conference. There is a specific training agenda for the Sheriff's Institute, but please review the general conference agenda for social events.

Detention Specific Training

Tuesday, June 18, 2019

Desert Waters Correctional Outreach is presenting True Grit: Building Resilience in Corrections Professionals. This course is geared toward detention officers but is open to all convention attendees. The purpose of the course is to prepare today's correctional professionals for long-term resilience to maintain overall health and wellness throughout his/her correctional career and beyond. The training provides learners with a thorough description of resilience skills and techniques in light of correctional occupational stress. True Grit contains material, which addresses psychological challenges experienced by correctional employees due to workplace stressors and ways to overcome them.

This training will be presented by Brent Parker who is the Director of Training for Desert Waters Correctional Outreach. Prior to working for Desert Waters, Brent served at the Colorado Department of Corrections for 29 years, where he held 16 different positions. When he retired he was the CDOC Director of Training. He also served for two years after that at the Fremont County Sheriff's Office, where he developed training programs. Brent has devoted his working life to the success and safety of both staff and offenders and that is why he continues to promote corrections employees' wellbeing. He has been involved in corrections at all levels and understands from first-hand experience the challenges faced by today's correctional staff. Brent has a Bachelor's Degree in Criminal Justice Administration and Sociology from Illinois State University.

General Law Enforcement Training

Wednesday, June 19, 2019

Calming the Fire: Principles for De-escalation and Understanding People. This training is applicable for all law enforcement divisions and ranks, including Detention Officers. This curriculum is designed to identify several basic behavioral types and what manner of communications works best with each one. By studying these qualities we can identify what works with those we encounter, but also how we best work with them and what areas we many need to improve upon to make us better communicators and de-escalators to potentially volatile situations. Each Officer is the starting point to a successful de-escalation.

This training will be presented by Darryl L. Rivers. Darryl is a U.S. Military Veteran and a retired Law Enforcement professional. He has experience as an Officer with the Detroit Police Department, an ATF task force agent, a Detective with the Arizona Department of Corrections, a Lead Special Agent with the Arizona Office of the Attorney General and a Sergeant with the Goodyear Police Department. He also has served as a civilian Public Education Specialist and trainer with Arizona government agencies. Darryl is a state certified General Instructor, Defensive Tactics, and Physical Fitness Instructor. One of his favorite assignments was serving as a Crisis/Hostage Negotiator assigned to the Special Assignment Unit, Crisis Negotiations Team.

Darryl started his own training business called "The L.E.A.D. Company" shortly after his retirement. From that platform Darryl has established himself as a national leadership speaker and trainer, a published author, Certified Professional Behavioral Analyst, Emotional Intelligence analyst/trainer, NLP/body language trainer and a John Maxwell Certified Team Member. He has a unique, humorous, yet intellectual delivery to his trainings that makes him a sought after government, correctional trainer across the nation.
